1.2.1. Curriculum provides adequate choice of courses to students as option /electives including pedagogy courses for which teachers are available

Response:

Pedagogy is often described as the act of teaching. The pedagogy adopted by teachers shapes their actions, judgments, and teaching strategies by taking into consideration theories of learning, understandings of students and their needs, and the backgrounds and interests of individual students.

Pedagogy is the approach to teaching. It is the theory and practice of learning and how this process influences, and is influenced by, the social, political, and psychological development of learners. Pedagogy is the study of how knowledge and skills are imparted in an educational context, and it considers the interactions that take place during learning. Both the theory and practice of pedagogy vary greatly as they reflect different social, political, and cultural contexts. In our college, Students are encouraged to learn various modes of teaching and determine mode by which a student understands the subject thoroughly and well.

Elective Course System is available in all the semesters to the students as per following details:
